Tour description:

This tour is a fascinating trip to the eastern part of the Bali, we will visit the ancient Court House of Justice at Klungkung, Kertagosa. Constructed in the late 18th century, the walls and ceilings are covered with paintings depicting episodes and scenes of the horrors awaiting those who do evil while on earth. After Klung Kung we will stop at Goa Lawah, (the Bat Cave Temple) – The cave have a subterranean connection to sacred Mt. Agung, the roof of this temple, set at the entrance to a sacred cave, is blanketed by thousands of bats. An awesome sight, especially if the resident pythons have crawled out on a ledge to “eye” the tourists and worshippers. After we passing by the tourist village of Candi Dasa we come across Tirta Gangga the tranquil and ancient bathing pools of the king of the area. Then we see Taman Ujung – a water pleasure-palace complex originally built by the last King of Karangasem in 1919. The complex is a combination of Balinese and European architectural styles with 3 large ponds inside the central area. After a scenic drive we reach the small fishing village of Amed. Here you can have lunch and a break for snorkeling in clear calm water. On the way back we stop at Tenganan – an original Balinese ‘Aga’ village and home to a distinctive ancient culture where strict mores and cultural taboos are still rigidly enforced. On the way back at your hotel you can stop at ketewel a small fishing village. The tour ends back in your hotel.
