Description:

After pick up at your hotel you pass through unworldly beauty – natural rice paddies, quaint Balinese villages, temples and local markets – on the scenic drive to the Bali Elephant Camp, located in the historic village of Carangsari, birth place of Bali's national hero 'Ngurah Rai' and only a short distance from the Sangeh monkey forest.

If you want to become friends with a great Sumatran elephant, then try our shorter Adventurer Trek! You get to experience the beautiful landscape of our camp as well as venturing out for a trek along the edge of the valley... The views are incredible, so bring your camera! You may also get to see monkeys and tropical birds in their natural habitat. Look down at the raging Ayung River and discover how much fun riding an elephant can be. Our elephant will also show you his/her pool as he wades through the water to cool off from the hot sun. Feel free to relax and enjoy lunch at the “Trunk’n’Mahout” café at the end of the trek and enjoy the stunning valley scenery.

The tour vends at your hotel.

Pick up time: 0.30 – 11.00 AM (afternoon trip)

Price:

1 Hour USD 105 / Person

Description:

Be prepared to see more of the real Bali from high up on your Sumatran elephant! Pass through tropical plantations of mango, jackfruit, durian, coffee, bamboo and coconuts. Look out for birds and monkeys as you pass through the jungle and see how other animals such as pigs, cows and buffalos play a part in the daily life far away from the tourist areas. A highlight on the trip is to be invited into the home of a local farmer where you will enjoy a drink of fresh coconut. This is such a unique and enjoyable trek as you look down at glimpses of the river and trek through unspoilt rice paddies on your return to the Camp. You and your elephant become a part of the real Balinese experience. When you return to the camp enjoy a delicious western 3 course menu at the “Trunk’n’Mahout” valley-view café and relax in the idyllic surroundings.
